3. Description

The protagonist is Nabbovaldo, a young inhabitant of Internetopoli, the city of the Internet, who is passionate about the online world but naive and unaware of the possible risks. During the game, Nabbovaldo, a handyman by profession, finds himself involved in an adventure centred around ransomware (malware designed to extort money from a victim) that holds the entire city of Internetopoli in check. Nabbo, in addition to continuing to work for the citizens of Internetopoli, investigates, questioning people and/or exploring various environments, in search of a solution and the person responsible for the crime.
